It works fine in the source code window.
Are you talking about scrolling elsewhere?

Yes, the debugger windows.
In the main program window it's normal, but in the debug windows (variables, source code, etc) it's backwards.

Hmmm... That's weird. It's working fine in the debugger source code window here.
I wonder if it's possible there was a bug in just the Windows version.

What kind of computer and web browser are you using?
Here I'm using macOS Mojave (10.14.6), Google Chrome Version 93.0.4577.82 (Official Build) (x86_64), and AOZ Studio 1.0.0 (B10) u16 (9/19 beta).

Windows 7.
It's in the AOZ viewer, not a browser.
I think Macs default to backwards for all scrolling, so that's why you didn't notice on yours.

Corrected two versions ago.
